Re: Frank Haney

To whom it may concern:

Our son has been taking drum lessons from Frank for the past 4 years and it has been a fun and educational experience for him. Frank is an extremely responsible, dependable young man who really enjoys teaching his students and gets as excited in their progress as they do. Because Frank is such a wonderful teacher and all around wonderful person, we have introduced him to other families who currently are taking lessons from him also. I am self employed myself so I understand what a complement it is to my ability and knowledge that people want to refer others to my business and that's just how we feel about Frank.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Lemke
